WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Japan will not necessarily insist upon completion of her "8 and 8" program of naval construction now building, provided that a "proper understanding" concerning limitation of armament is reached at the forthcoming conference.

Furthermore, Japan has not fortified any of her islands of the mid-Pacific and will not do so as long as she is certain of the "peaceful attitude of neighboring nations toward Japan." These and similar opinions were expressed today by Vice Admiral Kato, chief naval adviser to the Japanese delegation, in an interview with the International News Service, which he indicated Japan's complete willingness to go along with the other nations at the conference in their efforts to limit armament and allay the frictional causes of future wars in the Pacific and far east.

The "8 and 8" program now building is designed to add eight of the most modern battleships and eight of the latest type battle cruisers to Japan's navy, bringing it up to a point where it compares favorably with the British and American fleets.

At latest accounts it is about half completed. "Japan is looking forward to this conference with high hopes and expectations," said Admiral Kato, "and our people are eagerly awaiting for a successful conclusion or understanding which will prove practicable in enforcing limitation of armament."

MORE LICENSES
ASKED IN MORGAN

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-
Decatur Daily)

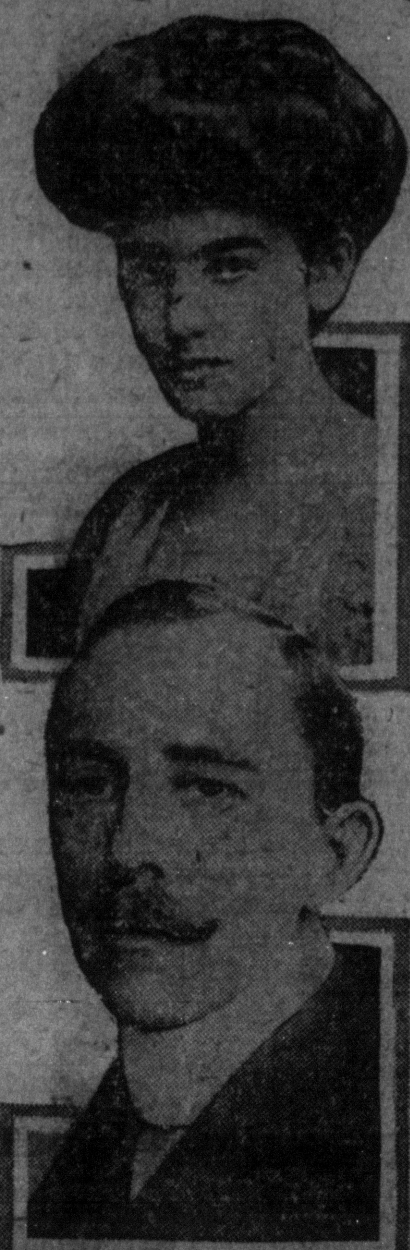

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2.—
The hunting season has opened with a rush throughout Alabama, according to urgent requests for additional hunters' licenses on the first day of the hunting season which was Tuesday.
The state department of conservation received requests for additional licenses during the day from J. M. Volz, probate judge of Baldwin county;
L. P. Troup, probate judge of Morgan county, and James G. Key, probate judge of Pike county.

Judge Volz had already received forty non-resident hunters' licenses
but he sent in an appeal for fifteen additional ones. This indicates greater interest than ever before on the part of non-residents, who are required to pay $15 for each license.
Judges Troup and Key requested additional state hunters' licenses which are sold at $3 each. The conservation department has received reports from many counties, which indicate that game is more plentiful than ever.

CAN'T STOP THIS JUDGE

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 2.—Despite the fact that the city jailer was absent when court was called, Judge J. D. Campbell was not delayed in holding court here. He had the docket carried from cell to cell and tried the cases in that manner. However, it was necessary for the "not guilty" ones to wait behind bars until the jailer returned.

PASSAGE OF BONUS
BILL BY CONGRESS
URGED BY LEGION

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 2.—Criticism
the opposition of President Harding and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to the adjusted compensation bill now before Congress, the American Legion convention adopted a report today urging immediate passage of the act. The report was read by National Vice Commander James E.
Scruggs.

"The greatest opposition we have had have been letters from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and President Harding. One of the greatest factors in the defeat of this bill was a man who was one of the world's greatest war profiteers," Scruggs stated.
Cries of "Mellon, Mellon" were heard from delegates about the hall.
Marshal Foch, the Legion's guest of honor, although showing a trace of fatigue from the strenuous program
of yesterday, was early astir today.
The Marshal and other distinguished guests at the convention, prepared to bid the city goodbye, for they leave tonight.

Delegates opened the final session and with the selection of officers and the final report of committees, the only business the convention was to adjourn. Marshal Foch long before many in the city were out, went to Rockhurst college to attend early mass and memorial services for his son, who was killed in the war.

At 9 o'clock at the college the degree of L. L. D. was conferred upon him. At 1 o'clock Marshal Foch and General Pershing left for an inspection trip to Fort Leavenworth.

MERGES TWO OF
CITY OFFICES AND CUTS CLERK'S PAY

Retrenchment Steps Are Taken
by Board in Regular Session

INSPECTOR-OVERSEER WILL BE NAMED SOON

Office Will be Filled by the Council on November Fourteenth

The Albany city council last night
launched forth on a retrenchment program and voted the consolidation of the offices of sanitary officer and street overseer. Shortly afterward the council also voted a reduction in salary of the city clerk from $250 per month to $175. The consolidation of the two offices is effective on December 1, and the reduction in the clerk's salary is effective on November 15, according to the decision of the council.

The council last night heard complaints of several citizens of the Third Ward against the existing sanitary fees, but no definite action was taken by the aldermen. The sanitary fees have been the subject of more or less complaint for many months.

The report of the sanitary officer for the past month was read and commended in open meeting for its lucidity. The council passed a resolution consolidating the two city offices, but the election of overseerinspector was deferred until November 14. It was suggested that all applicants for the position have their applications in by that date.

In connection with the consolidation
it was suggested that all citizens, after January 1, pay their sanitary fees quarterly at the city hall, instead of awaiting the call of the collector.

An ordinance was passed paying Sullivan, Long and Hagerty, of Bessemer, $2,300 in bonds and $212.20 in cash for the completion of sanitary sewer contracts here.

PARADE FEATURES
"ARMISTICE DAY"

The Armistice Day committee met last night at Carmen's hall, and in the absence of its chairman, H. C.
Huchison, W. G. Gentry presided. It was agreed that the parade form at 1 o'clock at or near the Albany high school, marching directly to Decatur, with the expectation that the Decatur school fall in at the Morgan county court house, provided this school does not form with the parade
when it first starts.

It is expected to take about an hour
to march, by way of Second Avenue, LaFayette Street and Bank Street to the Community Center building. The speaking and singing exercises will be held there. Then the parade will move South to the Athletic field, where a football game will be staged between Albany high and Sheffield high. The cavalry demonstration, under the direction of Capt. Richard Burleson, will also be held at the Athletic field. The entire program is promised to the public in a few days.
Another meeting of the committee is set for Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at Carmen's hall.

A call for volunteers has been issued for a meeting to be held Monday night at 7 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A.
when the preliminary cast for the annual Kiwanis Minstrels will be chosen. The entertainment will be given about the middle of December. Proceeds from the entertainment will be used for a Christmas tree for deserving kiddies of the Albany-Decatur section and to meet other demands from charity. A program was given last year at a local theatre and was very successful.

Announcement was made today
that there still remains in the club treasury a small sum from last year's minstrel, which the organization will be glad to use in meeting any demand for aid from needy families.

It was pointed out that all of the proceeds from the entertainment will go into the charity fund, the general fund receiving no benefits whatever from the show.

Announcement was made of the appointment of the following committees: orchestra, W. W. Rahm; advertising and publicity, E. F. Baird;

COUNCIL ENDORSES
PLAN TO ENLARGE
MAIL BOX NUMBER

The Albany city council last night
gave its endorsement to the plan to enlarge the use of mail boxes as a step to increase the efficiency of mail delivery. The following resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, it has been brought to the attention of the city council of Albany, Alabama, that the Postoffice Department of the United States has inaugurated a campaign to get patrons who have their mail delivered by city carriers to put numbers on their houses and install mail boxes, the former to prevent wrong delivery of mail and the latter to expedite the delivery.

BE IT THEREFORE RE-SOLVED, that the campaign to this end by the Postoffice Department and the Albany postoffice is hereby given the endorsement of the city council of Albany and all residents of Albany
who have not already provided house numbers and mail receptacles are urged to do so at once.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED
that copies of this resolution shall be furnished the press, the Postmaster of Albany and the Postmaster General of the United States at Washington, D. C.

SENATOR WATSON
MAY REFUSE TO OFFER TESTIMONY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Senator
Tom Watson, Democrat of Georgia, indicated today that he may refuse to appear before the special senate committee, appointed to investigate his charges that American soldiers were hanged without courtmartial by their officers in France during the world war.

"My charges were made in the open Senate and the accuracy of them was challenged in the open Senate by Senator Wadsworth. I feel that the proper place for me to answer Senator Wadsworth's charges against me is in the open Senate. I shall certainly reply at a fitting time, committee or no committee."

Senator Watson added that he would answer Senator Wadsworth in the Senate before reaching a decision as to whether he would appear before the investigating committee. Senator Watson expressed dissatisfaction with the committee investigation ordered by the resolution of Senator Lenroot because the committee was not empowered to call witnesses or documents or to compel testimony under oath and because it was not furnished with funds to conduct its investigation as most Senate investigating committees are.

Tax Officials Are Given $1000 Raise

Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2.— Jefferson county's tax assessor and tax collector will receive ex officio fees of $1,000 a year for receiving and handling the special taxes of that county under the bill which became a law Tuesday with the approval of Governor Kilby. The bill was one of those passed during the closing days of the legislature.

The tax collector and tax assessor in the past have been required to handle the special taxes without extra compensation. As they are on a salary they could not be paid fees but the law was so written that they will receive extra compensation of $1,000 each and the fees they would receive will be covered in the county treasury.

LLOYD GEORGE IS UNABLE TO LEAVE
BRITAIN THIS WEEK

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Premier Lloyd George today cancelled his passage for New York on the Aquitania, sailing Saturday. The Premier hopes to go to America later to attend the sessions of the armament conference, but he cannot get away this week on account of the critical Irish peace situation and the possibility of a general election.

A. J. Balfour, who will head the British delegation in the absence of the Premier, left for America this morning.

"I am very hopeful that the conference will be a success. It must not fail. We will do our best to see that it does not fail," Mr. Balfour said.

PRESIDENT HARDING HAS ANNIVERSARY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Today
was a double anniversary for President Harding. Sixty-six years ago he was born. One year ago today he was elected President of the United States by the greatest majority ever given a presidential candidate. There was no special celebration at the White House, although there was a flood of congratulatory messages.

Among the messages of congratulations received by the President were several from European royalty, including King George of Great Britain.

Railroad Junking Opposed by Harris

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Congress
today was asked to stop alleged overnight junking of railroads in the South
in a bill presented by Senator Harris, Democrat of Georgia, which would require 12 months notice before any railroad could be abandoned.

Senator Harris charged that several hundreds of miles of short line railroads in Georgia were being abandoned or were in danger of being junked and that business in the territory served by the roads was practically ruined as a result.

GOVERNMENT STILL HOPEFUL A STRIKE
WILL NOT FOLLOW
DECISION OF COURT

Secretary of Labor Davis Declines to Discuss Situation
at Present

28,000 ARE IDLE IN TERRE HAUTE AREAS

No Strike Orders Have Been Issued by Union Officials

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The administration is hopeful that there will be no nation wide coal strike as the result of Judge Anderson's injunction decision, it was stated officially today.
Secretary of Labor Davis said that he could not discuss the situation while it was still in the courts, but he indicated that he was hopeful that the matter would be adjusted without a strike and pointed out that an appel will be taken from the Anderson decision.

Labor department officials pointed out that the check off system was provided for in the recommendation of the bituminous coal commission, which was appointed more than a year ago
to adjust the last wage dispute.

They suggested that these recommendations play quite a part in the future actions on the Anderson decision.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 2.—
Practically all of the 200 mines in District Number 11, comprising most of the Indiana coal fields and employing 28,000 men, were idle today, according to reports reaching here.

No strike order has yet been issued by district officials, however. The remaining mines will close tomorrow, reports indicated, in protest against federal Judge Anderson's injunction decrees.

SUPPLY ON HAND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—In the event of a coal strike there is sufficient amount of fuel on hand to prevent any immediate suffering according to the National Coal Association.
A survey of the coal supplies made by the association shows there is a supply of household coal on hand, sufficient to last from 6 weeks to 2 months. Public utilities have from two to four months supply on hand and the railroad systems have approximately a six weeks supply.

If officials of the United Mine Workers of America decide to call a general strike as a protest against the Indianapolis injunction, the strikers would have the complete support of the American Federation of Labor,
it was indicated today.

Officers of the Federation declined to make predictions concerning the consequences of Judge Anderson's ruling but pointed out that the organization at its last convention adopted resolutions condemning the use of the injunction and declaring that prosecutions leveled at the United Mine Workers will detrimentally affect all other trade unions to the same proportion strengthen the forces that are seeking destruction of the labor movement.

Captain Worley
is Visiting Home

Captain Floyd Worley, Twin Cities
boy, who is well known in carnival circles as a diver and airplane performer, is here on a visit to relatives, preparatory to a trip to Cuba.

Captain Worley made a reputation as a dare-devil high diver, but this season he took up airplane stunts and next season expects to confine his activities to the latter sphere.

"More danger, but better pay" is his philosophical explanation of his change of profession. He has many friends in the Twin Cities who are according him a cordial welcome home.

AMERICA'S MOST DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

It would make interesting reading to brush up on the visit of Lafayette to this country made some years after the Revolutionary war, that he had helped win for America, in connection with the present visit of General Foch, who did so much to win the world war for America and every other free nation three years ago. Marshall Foch is the man into whose care American fathers and mothers perforce place their dearly beloved sons, during the fateful "battle of France" so called, that began in March 1918, and ended with the defeat of Ludendorff's hopes, November 11 of the same year. How well Foch discharged his duty is seen by the universal acclaim he is meeting with every where he goes. He said before he landed in New York: "I know they love me over there, but I love them too. My joy in meeting them will be equal to their joy in meeting me."

Measured by success standards, Foch is a far greater General than was Napoleon. He presented his and the world's enemies a Waterloo, instead of meeting a Waterloo as did Napoleon. Foch was not made General over the entire Allied armies, until about a year before his final triumph; but he was known as the master strategist of the French army early in the great war. It was Foch who charged the Germans, successfully, after he had sent the following immortal words to Joffre, his superior officer: "My center is giving away, my left is shot away, my right is retreating, I shall attack."

Another version of the immortal sentiment, adds: "Impossible to maneuver, the situation is excellent. I shall attack." It does not appear why Foch should said the "situation is excellent," unless he knew of certain bad conditions behind the German lines. He doubtless did know the Germans were in a bad way, from the desperation with which they were attacking.

The record shows that Foch made the situation "excellent" when he did attack. He was successful. This success was in the early days of the war. Not until the spring of 1918 was Foch made the Generalissimo of the entire Allied armies. Then he entered upon the supreme test of his power and his strategy. Readers will easily recall how the Germans began their much advertised drive on March 27, 1918, and that their successes caused gloom not only in Europe, but in America as well. People who were planning to buy this or that, thinking the battle would go against the Germans, ceased to buy and to plan for a long war, when the battle lines came toward Paris, instead of advancing toward Berlin. It was in this time of the trial for men's souls, that the civilized world began to place their faith in General Foch, and their home in him for an Allied victory. Ludendorff's task was to crush Foch, before the Americans began to arrive in France in large numbers. The Germans had the deciding advantage in every way until July, 1918 and from the desperation with which he made his soldiers fight, he seemed to realize once again that Foch, if given time to prepare, might destroy German ambitions for all time, as he had frustrated them earlier in the war.

Until the arrival of the American armies, it was a battle of wits between Foch and the German General Staff. Foch won. He was able to prevent a break in the 250 mile front, and in the mean time had planned how best to use the Americans when they came.

Not until the middle of July 1918, did General Foch prove beyond a doubt that he was the master of the Germans and all their works. He took the initiative about the 18th of July, and it will be recalled that at least one local boy, fell facing toward Berlin, when Foch began his mighty drive that was to end months later with the signing of the Armistice on November 11th. It is said that General Foch is below the average in height, that his legs are bowed "with much horse back riding," that his mustache is heavy and grizzled, that he talks with many gestures, and that from under his shaggy brows the clearest kind of eyes peer out unafraid, but with a kindly twinkle.

Foch is preeminently the highest candidate so far, of all the great commanders of the world war, for a supreme place in the hall of eternal fame. Nothing but time and the impartial history writers of the future, can say definitely just how great and how far reaching was the genius of Ferdinand Foch, and the exact part he played in the greatest struggle known to mankind must be determined by another generation. We have a more agreeable duty and privilege toward the great French Marshal—it is our place and pleasure to love and reverence him, just as he believed we would when he declared: "I know they love me over there."

General Foch has proven himself a great strategist once again. He has determined to drink plain water while on his American trip. First, to avoid bad boot leg liquor, and second to keep rid of worthless friends that would have pestered him to death, had he brought any good French wine with him.

Of course the real reason General Foch is to do without liquors while in America, is because of respect for our bone dry laws. Well, company always did act a little better than the home folks?

Good cooks in Russia, are said to get 50,000 rubles and three full meals. It goes without saying that the food allowed is the main consideration.

Statistics show that if the women should all go to the polls they could out vote the men by a good margin. Well, they have been deposing all men while men have only proposed.

SURE THEY KNOW

There is a merchant in our town
Who thinks he's wondrous wise;
He scoffs at those who spend hard cash
Their goods to advertise.

He mocks the ad man to his face,
"You're talking through your hat,
'Cause everybody everywhere Knows where my store is at!"

Of course most people vaguely know
That Jones conducts a store—
Out of the beaten paths where goes
The cream of trade no more.

But what he sells in his small place,
What goods he has on shelf,
They cannot say, because old Jones
Keeps that all to himself.

And this is why the blinded man
Has troubles now, and woe,
And why his sales are less than they were
Some twenty years ago.

Sure everybody knows where Jones
Sits glum in his easy chair,
They also know where the graveyard is.
But they are not flocking there!

SONS FOLLOWING IN FATHERS'
FOOTSTEPS MIGHT NOT BE BEST

Every father, as soon as the doctor announces that "It's a boy," begins nursing a hope that son will follow in father's footsteps.

It is a great comfort, in old age, for John Blank to see "John Blank & Sons" nailed over the door of his shop. It means that the institution which father toiled so hard to build up will live on after his death.

A machinist may earnestly want his son to "get an educat on and have a better chance," but deep down in his heart he knows that he would be extremely happy if son became the finest tool maker in the world.

No doubt Thomas, Lincoln, poor farmer, hoped his son would become a rich farmer. Instead, Abraham Lincoln became president.

Lawyer John Adams probably urged his son, who became a president, to study law.

Son, all though his boyhood, is eagerly watched by father to see if he displays any of the particular brand of ability that pa turned into a means of livelihood.

For 101 years the Rev. Andrew Broadus has occupied the pulpit of the Salem Baptist church at Sparta, Va. The first Andrew Broadus, preaching in this church from 1920 until his death in 1848, was succeeded by his son, another Andrew Broadus. In turn, his son inherited the pulpit.

Now there is a fourth Andrew Broadus, son of the present pastor. So far, he has not shown much inclination to take up the work when his father retires from the ministry.

You would have to travel a good many days to find a similar instance of heredity.

Many businesses, built up by father and sons years ago, are still operating under the old firm name. But control of the business has passed into the hands of outsiders, frequently the family not being represented at all.

It may be disappointing to a father for his son to turn to a totally different line of work. But, after all, it is a wise provision of the scheme of things.

If sons always followed father in the same business or line of work, the world would run in a rut. Many lines of activity would become overcrowded, one father's place being taken by three sons, later by nine grandsons, still later by 27 great-grandsons. None would be available to fill new positions that are opened yearly by new fiends of activity.

The wonder of what your son will become is one of the most thrilling mysteries of your lifetime.—Anniston Star.

ABOUT MR. WEEKS

Secretary Weeks is a lot more popular in the Muscle Shoals district today than he was a week ago today. In the first speech he made on the morning of his visit he said that folks always liked each other better when they knew each other—and he proved the truth of his assertion in twelve hours.

A lot of people who live in this section and who had never heard Mr. Weeks talk thought he had been "playing politics" with Muscle Shoals—but there is not a man who heard him talk while here who believes that is true now.

If Secretary Weeks is not honestly and sincerely trying to do the right thing in the disposition he recommends for Muscle Shoals then he is the most colossal hypocrite of the age.

He said everything that he could say, except that he was positively going to recommend the acceptance of the Ford bid. He couldn't possibly have said that until he has his final conference with Ford in Washington—but he evidently was trying to leave the impression that he would do it.

Everybody who heard Mr. Weeks was impressed with his sincerity and his great desire to get at the true facts with regard to Muscle Shoals.—Florence Daily News.

Many droughts in the past were prayed off, or attempts made to do so; but in no instance has prayer been made for the breaking of the 18th amendment drought.

Headlines say that Harding and Lloyd George will direct the disarmament conference. Anybody's direction will be acceptable just so the conference lives up to its name.

Marshall Foch can accept the great ovations being given him with all the more satisfaction—since he will know that the corner saloon was not responsible.

Rene Viviani, the genial Frenchman takes the cake for optimism. He says that America will be as efficient in peace as she was in war. Rene ought to be hired as the world's advance agent.

North Dakota is being congratulated on putting the discredited Non-Partisan league out of business; but until it is explained why they elected a man named Sveinbjorn to a high state office, further congratulations should be withheld.

Goes Over Details
of Road Plans

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 2.—Special)—Benneth Cameron, of Stagville, N. C., president of the Bankhead National Highway Association, has spent three days at the headquarters of the association in consultation with Director General J. A. Rountree, going over the details of the office and the work of the association. He expresses himself as being delighted with the progress that has been made during the past six months in promoting and building the Bankhead Highway from Washington to San Diego, Cal.

While at headquarters, he discussed the program of the sixth annual convention of the association, which will meet in Phoenix, Arizona, April 27 and 28. He also considered the itinerary and the work of a pathfinding commission, which will inspect and locate the route of the Texas to Mexico City division of the highway from Mt. Pleasant, Texas, to Laredo, on to the City of Mexico. President Cameron and Director General Rountree will accompany this commission.

Plans were also discussed in regard to the erection of a monument in honor of ex-Congressman Thomas S. Plowman, the first president of the association, at his old home, Talladega, Alabama.

Your state of health largely depends upon the food you eat

No one who is physically ailing in any way can afford to take chances with the food he eats. For upon the selection of your food, and upon its perfect digestion and assimilation largely depends your state of health.

The most important thing in connection with the digestibility of any cereal food is the way it is prepared—and the length of time it is cooked or baked.

Grape-Nuts, the rich cereal food made from whole wheat flour and malted barley, is probably baked longer than any other cereal food.

A large part of the starch of the wheat and barley is changed into dextrin and grape-sugar in preparing Grape-Nuts. This is one reason why Grape-Nuts is so easily digested by even the most delicate people.

Grape-Nuts is wheat and barley so processed as to make it delicious and appetizing; even young children thrive on it and grow strong and rosy.

Go to your grocer today and get a package of Grape-Nuts. Eat it as a cereal with milk or cream, or make it into a delicious pudding. It will be enjoyed and relished by every member of the family.

CONVICTIONS IN AMERICA NOW ARE INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

The bombing of Ambassador Herrick's residence in Paris has been laid to the conviction for murder, in Massachusetts, of Bartolemeo Vanzetti and Nicolo Sacco. It is charged that Internationalists and Syndicalists resented the verdict by throwing the bomb, after they had made fruitless appeals to American Ambassadors in Europe for the release of the prisoners. The death sentence imposed on the two men has stirred revolutionists all over the world, and especially in France, to a high pitch of resentment against Americans and American institutions. The convicted men are charged with shooting and killing a paymaster and special officer of the Slater & Morrell Shoe Company, in South Braintree, Mass., and robbing him of an $12,000 payroll. Have You Ever Tried These Special Ways of Cooking Duck?

It often is said that more families would eat duck if they knew how to cook it well, which is perhaps true. Ducks and ducklings are the choicest eating of duckdom. Though the season for the birds runs until the first frost throughout the duck habitat of the states, the birds are the fattest and best for eating from September to early November.

Naturalists tell us there are nearly a hundred different species of duck, though they vary but little one from another. Finner cooks say the light-colored ducks are most delicate in flavor, and that those reared on a vegetable diet are the finest for table use. Wild ducks are not as plentiful in eastern markets as they were formerly.

Roast Duck.

Choose a duck having a full breast, a plump belly and thick, yellow feet. Clean it, remove the pin feathers, cut out the neck and make a French breast, and cut the pinions at the first joint. Remove the oil tag at the base of the tail, stuff and truss the same as chicken. A well-seasoned onion and sage stuffing is the favorite. Rub over with lemon juice to whiten the flesh. Cook in a double roasting pan, or covered pan, basting often for a full half-hour; then uncover to brown. Just before the duck is done dredge lightly with a little flour to thicken it. Make a good brownish gravy to serve with duck; also make a gooseberry sauce, and serve baked potatoes and peas with it.

Hashed Duck.

Pick the racks of the cold left-over ducks clean. Remove the larger pieces, whole. Take the left-over gravy and add to it a cupful of good stock, an onion sliced and fried, butter browned, the pickings from the rack, and half a cupful of chopped mushrooms. Stew slowly until all is blended. The liver, gizzard and heart may be chopped and added. Thicken all slightly, then add the large pieces of the duck, letting them heat thoroughly, but do not cook fully-meat. Serve on a hot dish garnished with toast appetizers.

Duck à l'Orléans.

Prepare the duck the same as for roasting, then with a sharp knife cut straight down the back and bone as neatly as possible. Turn the legs and wings inside, then spread with a savory stuffing of crumbs, butter, onion juice, pepper, salt, half a cupful of apple sauce, and a quarter of a cupful of minced nuts. Roll neatly, and sew or tightly skewer in place. Lay in a buttered casserole with little potato balls, button onions and peas. From the rack make a rich stock, adding a bay leaf, celery, onion, pepper, salt and a little curry powder. Thicken slightly, then strain over the duck. Cover and cook in the oven about three-quarters of an hour. There should be gravy enough to cover all ingredients well. Serve in the casserole dish.

Deviled Duck.

Pick clean the rack of a cold roast duck. Roll the rack with the remains of the gravy and a little stock, or water to cover, add onion and other seasonings. Cook down to about two cups, thickened with a little cornstarch, adding a little curry powder. Worcestershire sauce, a teaspoonful of chopped chives, and enough to make the cooled gravy to make a rich mixture. Line small tarts with good paste, fill them with the mixture, dust with a little grated cheese, and bake ten minutes. Serve with jelly with the duck.

BOWLING ALLEYS FORMALLY OPENED

The Y. M. C. A. bowling alleys were formally opened last night, Mayor E. C. Payne, of Albany and E. G. Cherry, chairman of the federated shop crafts, rolling the first balls. Mayor James A. Nelson, of Decatur, who was scheduled to participate in the ceremonies was unable to appear because of illness.

The first game of the season was played between Mayor Payne and Mr. Cherry, opposing C. C. Kent, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with headquarters in Atlanta, and E. F. Wilson, secretary of the federated shop crafts.

Mayor Payne delivered a short address, suggesting a pioneer team composed of those who played the game in 1887. He also paid a tribute to bowling as a health builder. Mr. Cherry also spoke for a moment, pledging his cooperation in making the forthcoming tournament a success.

The alleys will be opened daily and will be in charge of C. J. Coolidge. The tournament will start the latter part of this month, with half a dozen teams competing.

Names Traced to Chinese.

Many names of cities, mountains and rivers in the West, and along the Pacific coast, which have generally been regarded as Indian names, are really of Chinese origin, according to a writer in the New York Herald. Even the names of the state of Utah and Nevada are of Chinese origin, he says. "Pe" or "Pie" means north in Chinese; therefore the Pie or Indians were merely the North Ute Indians.

EXTENT OF CIVIL SERVICE IS GIVEN

The United States Civil Service Commission today issued its semi-annual statement regarding the extent of the federal executive civil service and reductions therein, as follows:

The federal executive civil force in the District of Columbia was reduced by 11,694 employees during the year ending July 31, 1921, and by 38,895 during the period from November 11, 1918, to July 31, 1921. The reduction throughout the United States, including the District of Columbia, was 93,634 for the year ending July 31, 1921, and more than 300,000 during the period from November 11, 1918, to July 31, 1921. The reductions continue steadily, but now, of course, more slowly.

On June 30, 1916, there were 39,259 employees in the District of Columbia, and 400,539 in branches outside the District of Columbia, making a total on that date of 439,798. On November 11, 1918, at the height of war expansion, the number of employees in the District of Columbia was 117,760. Owing to rapid fluctuations at distant places of employment, it was found impracticable to compile strictly accurate figures for the force outside the District of Columbia during the war period. As near as can be estimated, the force outside the District of Columbia numbered approximately 800,000 on November 11, 1918. This is a conservative estimate; it is probably too low. Adding the number in the District of Columbia on that date, the approximate total number of employees on the date the Armistice was signed was 917,760. On July 31, 1920, there were 90,559 federal civil employees in the District of Columbia and 600,557 in branches outside the District of Columbia, making the total on that date 691,116. On July 31, 1921, there were 78,865 employees in the District of Columbia and 518,617 in branches outside, the total on that date being 597,482.

All figures named include federal executive positions classified under the civil service law and those not so classified.

TWO RICH COSTUMES FOR FORMAL WEAR

Gorgeous Color Effects
Distinguish Evening Modes

By ANNETTE BRADSHAW

GORGEOUSNESS and wonderful color effects are two of the most noticeable characteristics of the mode for fall. This note is specially true of the gowns for evening, while the wraps are particularly sumptuous in style.

At the left is an unusually attractive wrap of moleskin. It is designed with wide sleeves, which are cut in one with the body of the wrap. They are fringed with monkey fur, which is also chosen for the adorning of the collar.

To the right is a striking evening gown that accentuates the long-waisted effect, which is a leading style tendency approved by some of the most famous designers. The gown is fashioned from green velvet lavishly brocaded in gold.

The long, slender lines of the figure are enhanced by the disposition of the fabric which is finished with a sinuous train. A harness-like arrangement of pearls makes pleasing shoulder straps, as well as proving an unusual decoration for the front of the gown. Two pearl-studded belts also emphasize the low waistline.

Legislator Put
on Jury Board

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-
Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2.—Sam W. Hawkins, member of the House of Representatives from Jefferson county, was appointed a member of the jury commission of that county by Governor Kilby today. He will succeed W. E. Dickson, former member of the House, who resigned his position to become a member of the jury commission in 1920 and who was elected a member of the city commission of Birmingham two weeks ago.

Mr. Hawkins will surrender his seat in the legislature at once. Jefferson county members of the House have fared well in politics since the legislature was organized in January, 1919. Thomas E. Huey, who served during the first session, was appointed a member of the Jefferson board of revenue and was reelected. He was succeeded by William L. Harrison, who also was elected a member of the Birmingham commission two weeks ago.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

Little Mary Louise Robinson entertained a number of her little friends Monday evening at the home of her parents on 7th Avenue West. The many guests were masqued for this occasion. Halloween decorations of autumn foliage, black cats, large and small pumpkins were artistically arranged throughout the home.

The prize awarded for the best Halloween costume fell to little Frances Abel. Miss Helen Strickland who acted the part of the gypsy fortune teller, amused the children with weird tales of the present, past and future.

After several hours spent at various games and contests, the children were invited to the dining room where a huge pumpkin centered an elaborately decorated table. Mrs. Robinson was assisted in serving and entertaining by Mrs. Strickland.

Miss Ethel Yates, of Camden, S. C.'s guest of her sister, Mrs. D. J. Perkins.

Mrs. J. W. Rhea, of Fayetteville, Tenn., is visiting the families of her daughter and son, Mrs. C. E. Crawford and A. B. Rhea, Jr.

Rev. and Mrs. L. F. Goodwin returned last night from a very pleasant visit to relatives at Birmingham. While in the city, Rev. Goodwin attended the meeting of near east relief work.

COLUMBIA VISITOR HONORED

Tuesday Mrs. W. R. Shelton was the charming hostess at a spend-the-day party, complimentary to her sister, Mrs. W. K. Sheddin, who is with her this week. A number of congenial friends were invited to share this hospitality. At one o'clock a delicious several course luncheon was served. Baryanthemums in a large crystal vase centered the daintily appointed table, where cards marked the places for Mrs. Sheddin, Mrs. W. E. Todd, Mrs. W. R. Smith, Mrs. Milton Harvey, Mrs. S. M. Thompson, and Mrs. T. T. Sheppard. After lunch the guests repaired to the living room, where the afternoon hours were pleasantly spent.

CHILDREN'S HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Monday afternoon, October 31st, Mrs. Carl Happer invited a number of his tots, friends of her little son, Carl Happer, Jr., to help make merry for Halloween. This was Carl's first party, an occasion long to be remembered by this young honoree. The living rooms of the attractive Happer bungalow were thrown together, making one big room for the games of the little folks. A decoration of yellow and black carried out the Halloween suggestion, that was wrought out also in the amusements. Later in the afternoon Carl invited his guests into the dining room where a huge cake topped by a weird looking witch, centered the pretty table. Favors consisting of yellow sacks of candy and Halloween balloons were found at each child's place. Mrs. Happer was assisted in serving ice cream, cake and other goodies by her mother, Mrs. L. B. Ashford, and sister, Mrs. J. F. Hollenbeck, both of Jourdand. The children invited to have this good time with Carl Jr., were: Jane Malone, Frances Cowden, Jeanor and Evelyn Green, Beverly and Todd, Marion Boswell, Doris Gardner, James Tillery, Pruet Cartwright, Jr., Foster Bailey, Joe Calvin, Jr., Joe Hollenbeck, Noel Carpenter, Frank Martin and Earl Calvin, Jr.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Henry R. Davis was a pleasant club hostess yesterday afternoon when she entertained the Tuesday afternoon Bridge Club at her home on Johnston Street. Club guests for the afternoon was Miss Ethel Yates, of Camden, S. C., attractive guest of her sister, Mrs. D. J. Perkins, on Gordon Drive. After an enjoyable game, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. O. C. Parker in serving dainty salad, sandwiches and coffee.

The social given by the United Order of the Golden Cross at their hall last evening was a decided success. W. D. Swinford, of Sheffield gave a short address in the interest of the order. The program rendered by the pupils of Mrs. Knight won much favorable comment and was proof of her efficient work.

Mrs. T. C. Spight returned yesterday from a two months' visit with relatives in Brownwood, Texas.

HEALTHFUL VIGOR
IN STRONG BLOOD

Rich, Red Blood Built Up by Pepto-Mangan—Liquid or Tablets

Blood is strong and full of life-giving vigor when there are plenty of red cells in it. Anaemic people have little strength because there are not enough red cells in the blood. Thin and watery. Weak blood makes pale, pulls down the skin and leaves the body tired, weak, sickly.

A course in Gude's Pepto-Mangan restores weak blood to its normal strength. Taken regularly while it adds red cells to the blood. Then with good blood, the strength and vigor of health return. The pleasure in living, with good running through the veins. Pepto-Mangan is put up in liquid in tablet form. They are the medicinally. Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan years. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package.

FIVE VARIATIONS OF MILLINERY'S "LAST WORD"Hats of Black Are Highly Favored, with Dashes of Brilliant Colors, Plus Feathers and Veils

By ANNETTE BRADSHAW

HATS for winter reveal much individuality in the lines on which they are fashioned.

While many black hats are originated for this season of the year, yet these are often enlivened with a touch of brilliant color. Veils are used in many interesting ways and occasionally take the place of a scarf when draped prettily about the neck. Sometimes, however, the veil is placed upon the hat so that the fabric from which it is fashioned is partly concealed.

This style is depicted in the model at the extreme right of the illustration. It is made of silver cloth and the veil, which is draped about it and falls in graceful folds at the sides, is of silver net embroidered with silver thread. A distinctive note is introduced in the jet ornaments which are placed at the front.

The hat to the left of this creation is a dashing purple velvet. The brim is sharply turned up from the face and on one side appears a striking festoon of all-violet and white flowers and foliage. These extend to the shoulder.

In the center of the group is a hat which is particularly good for the tall, handsome woman. It is developed in brick felt, for this is used for many attractive models. However, as velvet is extremely fashionable, that is chosen for its trimming. This takes the form of a flat flower with enormous petals which spread themselves from brim to crown. Purple in color, this decoration is unusually striking.

At the extreme left of the illustration is a smart toque made of cloth of gold. It is lavishly embroidered in blue, which adds much to its beauty, while poised on one side are two bunches of paradise. One of these is blue and the other a golden rust color.

The hat which completes the group is a wide-brimmed affair of black velvet and shows how attractive is the modish willow ostrich trim. This, however, instead of falling from the brim, stands erect and is of the lovely reddish shade of fuchsia.

TELEPHONE CHARGE
IS NOT OPPOSED

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2.—When the public service commission called up its citation yesterday requiring the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company to show why it should be permitted to continue the collection of a report charge on person-to-person telephone calls no one appeared to insist upon the discontinuance of the fee. The company opposed the proposal on the ground that the charge was a legitimate one for a service which the company is rendering.

Testimony was given for the company by Macon Martin, commercial superintendent, and H. E. Montague, general traffic superintendent, and it was shown by their statements that the revenue which the company is receiving from report charges annually in Alabama approximates $25,000. This amount includes report charges on interstate and intrastate business. E. D. Smith, general solicitor for the company, conducted the hearing.

Testimony also was received by the commission from the Alabama Power Company in support of its present power rates given to operators of X-ray machines and to retail and wholesale power users. Users of X-ray machines seek to have an order issued which will give them a lighting rate instead of a power rate because of the small amount of energy used in the operation of the machines. They were given until December 5 to prepare the testimony in support of their petition.

In the other case the power company was cited to show why it should not be required to give the same rate for lighting purposes to small users of power as are given to large users. After the company's testimony was submitted the commission postponed the hearing until an optional contract may be filed with the commission for approval, the belief being that this optional contract will bring about an adjustment.

IN MEMORIAM

On Oct. 13, 1921, God called to her Heavenly home, Mrs. Estelle Pettus Lewis, wife of P. E. Lewis. Her husband and two children, Edwin and Don, her mother, Mrs. Allie Pettus, one brother, T. L. Pettus, and other relatives are left to mourn her loss. At an early age she surrendered her heart and life to God, and united with the Baptist church and until the day of her death she was a devoted follower of Christ, as we recall her noble life and character, her conscientious and faithful performance of every duty.

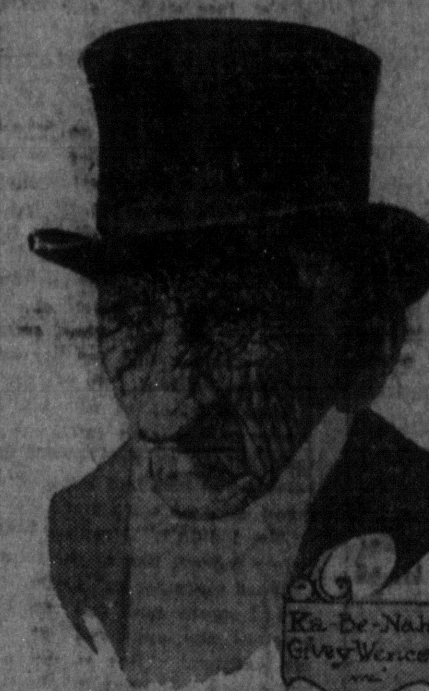

Her loving gracious personality, her tender loyal friendship and her strong Christian faith, we realize what an irreparable loss her home going has been to her family, her friends, her church and the community in which she lived.

Her life was full of noble and unselfish deeds, for she never tired of looking after the comfort of others. Of her as of Darcas of old, it might truly be said this woman was full of good works and alms deeds which she did.

"Beautiful toiler thy work is done,
Beautiful soul unto glory gone,
Beautiful life with thy crown now won
God giveth thee rest."

COTTON MARKET
SUFFERS A SLUMP

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—From the actions of the cotton market early today it was evident that a good deal of the local short interests covered on the final jump in prices yesterday. A general advance of 5 to 10 points at the start was a poor response to strength at Liverpool and was followed by reactions which carried quotations under last night's close. At the end of the first 15 minutes the list was steadier.

Santa Claus Will Have Dreary Time
In Foreign Areas

Santa Claus will have a dreary time of it in the devastated regions of Europe this winter, so it has been decided to assist the brave old man by sending 10,000 Christmas boxes to the European children. The Junior Red Cross has the matter in hand and so far 8,000 boxes have been prepared and sent. Rag dolls are particularly in demand since there is no nationality about a rag doll—she is the same the world over and her blank soft face will look attractive to a European child as it would to a little American girl.

Moreover, rag dolls are easy to pack, they neither crumple nor break and the best thing about them is that they are so easily made. The high school of Onancock, Va., made boxes of rags dolls itself—dolls with mitten shaped hands and wasp shaped waists and dresses made of simple, sheer material. A rag doll is not proud. She will wear almost anything. For boys, there are tops and marbles, games and dominoes—mittens and stockings, anything to delight a small masculine heart. The children range from six to fourteen years of age and nuts and hard candy may be included if they are sealed in a tin box. Competition on the boxes has been keen and so far Greenville, N. C., stands at the head of the list with the contribution of 1,000 boxes.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—“Cardui Built Me Up,” She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: “I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag.

“I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

“Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did. “I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl like Cardui.”

“Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes. At your druggist's.

POLLY AND HER PALS

'PUBLICITY BLOC' FOR ARMS PARLEY BECOMES ACTIVE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—Senators who are urging that the fullest publicity be given to whatever transpires at the conference on limitation of armament and far eastern problems, were roused today by semi-official advice reaching them that public or open sessions of the conference will be few and far between.

They declared that they were preparing to protest vigorously if it developed that where the opening sessions probably will be public, those hereafter will be mostly closed or secret, except for an occasional open one intended to satisfy public opinion.

Among the senators who denounced the policy of closed sessions were: Senators Borah, of Idaho; LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin; Capper, of Kansas; Walsh, of Massachusetts; Johnson, of California, and Ladd, of North Dakota.

Mobile Enabled Improve Street

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2—Mobile's no-man's land ceased to be no man's land Tuesday afternoon because Governor Kilby affixed his signature to the bill which provides a means for the construction of streets through that section of Mobile over which neither the county nor the city could have jurisdiction in the past.

The bill passed the legislature during the closing days of the extra session. It was the third to be offered since the law-makers assembled in 1919. The first was invalid because of errors. The second passed the Senate last year but died on the House calendar. The third went through both houses.

Governor Kilby also approved the bill repealing the local leveeing and drainage act for Mobile county. By placing this act on the statute books Mobile's drainage work in the future can be done under the general law of 1915 which was found to be more effective than the local act.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

The "Hunch" That Lillian Had.

LILLIAN hesitated oddly, as, after our tea, I gave her the opportunity to tell me the thing she had wished me to know.

"It's just this," she said at last, patently half ashamed of what she was going to ask me. "Did you, by any chance bring your badge with you?"

I knew instantly what she meant, of course. It was the only badge I ever had worn, the little piece of metal which had given me rank during the world war as Lillian's assistant in the important secret work she was doing for the government. Lillian still held an important place in the service, but with an arrangement by which she was only called on for aid when some piece of work which called for her special talents was on foot. So far as work went I had no place at all, but Lillian, by virtue of my own influence, had managed things so that I was still on the reserve list and had kept my badge. But I had done no work since the war ended.

"No, I didn't," I replied. "It is in my safety deposit box at the bank." "Good place for it," Lillian commented, and I could not tell from her tone whether she approved or disapproved my caution. "But it doesn't matter," she added. "I have my badge with me, and as long as you're still on the rolls in good standing, I can lend it you. I want you to wear it when you go on that final flying trip tonight."

I suppose my face looked the startled inquiry I did not wish to voice, for Lillian suddenly laughed. "Clear Reasons."

"I don't blame you for that startled-frown expression," she said. "I don't know, myself, whether I'm getting feeble-minded, or unusually sagacious. But I've got one of my hunches, or at least a fraction of one, that you'd be better off if you had that badge with you in case of an emergency. And yet I haven't anything to go on—except—"

She paused, as if weighing and sifting the ingredients of her hunch while I mentally sat up and took notice. Many years of close association with Lillian Underwood have taught me to regard her hunches with awe and respect, to consider them almost clairvoyant.

"I won't be betraying any confidence," she said, "if I tell you that the powers that be are getting all but un— and between you and me their temperature ought to have risen long ago—over cer—"

Will Command Largest Ship

The distinction of commanding the world's largest ship, the 56,000-ton Majestic, now nearing completion for the White Star Line, to ply between New York and Southampton, has been conferred on Sir Bertram Hayes, at present commander of the Olympic.

Both ships are owned by an American concern, the International Mercantile Marine Company. The Majestic was built by the Germans, to lead the merchant fleets of the world, and while still unfinished was turned-over by them to the Reparations Commission, under the Versailles Treaty. She is 956 feet long, and her interior space is equal to that of 400 eight-room suburban houses. Sir Bertram Hayes, a native of Birkenhead, is fifty-seven years old and a bachelor. He has many friends in the United States.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Grippe

Any physician or druggist will tell you that the first step in the treatment of a cold, cough, sore throat, influenza or grippe should invariably be a brisk calomel purgative, preferably the nauseless calomel tablet called Calotabs. This alone is often sufficient to break up a severe cold over night, or cut short an attack of grippe and possibly prevent pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasures or work. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system is purified and refreshed. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages; price ten cents for the vest pocket size; thirty-five cents for a large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists everywhere. BURLESON'S BILL APPROVED BY KILBY

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2—Governor Kilby affixed his signature Tuesday to the bill of Senator B. A. Rogers, of Lauderdale, which makes a person guilty of grand larceny if he fails to pay the face value of a check within seven days after notice has been given to him that the drawee had refused to honor the paper. This law is intended to prevent persons from giving checks on banks, knowing that they did not have sufficient funds on deposit to meet the amount called for by the paper.

When a person comes into possession of a bad check in the future he may give the proper notice through the mail. If the drawer fails to pay the amount within a week he may be arrested for grand larceny and on conviction may be imprisoned in the penitentiary.

Governor Kilby also approved the bill by Representative Partridge, of Franklin, which provides for the incorporation of boards of education, the bill of Senator Rogers, of Sumter, which provides for the organization and incorporation of co-operative marketing associations by farmers, and the bill of Representative Burleson, of Morgan, which provides for the correction of estimates of the cost of public improvements which are planned for construction with bond issues.

Other bills which were approved by the governor will change the terms of the circuit court of Montgomery county and will create a new board of revenue for Sumter county.

MORGAN COUNTY IN RUNNING FOR TITULAR HONORS

HARTSELLE, Ala., Nov. 2—Some of the reasons why Morgan county high school contends for state championship, not a team in Alabama has crossed Morgan's goal line.

First she started with Rogersville, defeating her by a score of 21 to 0. Then fell the Cullman squad by a score of 14 to 0; Athens Aggies followed with the defeat of 54 to 0.

Then the "would be state champions" in the form of Wills-Taylor, of Huntsville, fell before Morgan by the score of 7 to 0.

Many critics say Gadsden has the best team in Alabama, but according to points, which is the next thing to playing, shows that Morgan is the better of the two teams, as she defeated Cullman 14 to 0, while Gadsden only defeated them 14 to 7.

Albany always claims North Alabama championship, but as she has fallen down with her contract to play Morgan November 2nd, Morgan must count points which which that Morgan is 87 points ahead of them. If for any reason Albany should see fit to play Morgan, she is ready at any time to play Albany.

Morgan's games are as follows: Morgan 21, Rogersville 0; Morgan 14, Cullman 0; Morgan 54, Athens Aggies 0; Morgan 7, Wills-Taylor 0. Line up for the season: L. E. Booth, L. T. Thompson, L. G. Ratliff, C. Edwards, R. G. Watson, R. T. P. McRee, R. E. Hartselle, R. H. M. McRee, L. H. Ellison, F. B. Tomlinson, Q. B. Orr.
